

THE GREAT CHIKO ROLL MYSTERY OF 1983

1 & 2 CLASSES

Behind-the-scenes preparations are underway for our whole school production in Terms 3. I am acting as co-ordinator of costumes and props this year. That simply means I am the central “Go to Mum” if you need any help or assistance in turning the ideas we have come up with into actual costumes to wear!

We are asking families to sort costumes for your classes independently. That will mean students and their families working together to pool resources and find creative ways to create character identities.

Our Grades ½ showcase line up of detective characters means there is plenty of scope for families to come up with their own interpretation of character costumes. Our list of characters is not finite – there other detectives out there that could easily be included if the students can sort a costume for themselves.

Here’s what we have so far ... Scooby Doo Gang, Ace Ventura, Dick Tracy, Sherlock Holmes, Charlie's Angels, Jessica Fletcher (Murder she wrote), Nancy Drew, Columbo, TinTin, Inspector Clouseau, Miami Vice, English Bobby Cops, Inspector Gadget, Miss Marple, Judy Moody.

Multiples of each character would be fine, but the more diversity on the stage the better it will look on show night!

If families get really stuck, there are some resources available in the school costume collection, but please let me know if you need access to these as they are not all in one place and I would rather hunt them out for you.
